

Nomination #1

I would like to nominate Carrie Moore for the DSA. Carrie has invested much of her time in support of the Deaf and interpreting communities. Her commitment and motivation to continuously improve our communities is reflected in her years serving on the FRID Board of Directors; to the hosting of workshops; to the strong morals and ethics that she represents as a working interpreter. I have witnessed Carrie's professional impact on many up-and-coming interpreters, and firmly believe our profession has benefited greatly from her efforts. Carrie has selflessly given of herself to this profession, and I believe she is deserving of this award.

Nomination #2

I would like to nominate Carrie Moore for this year's DSA. Carrie is selfless; she gives her time and talent to many different organizations and groups. In addition to serving as FRID's Secretary for a term, she has contributed to FRID as a committee member, a (pro bono) presenter, an interpreter (pro bono), et cetera. Throughout all of these experiences, she never asks, "what's in it for me?" Additionally, she continues to work alongside FAD in their advocacy efforts, and she often works with the Deaf Literacy Center. All of this on top of being a full-time working interpreter! She is an incredible woman and I truly believe she epitomizes the Distinguished Service Award.
